

THREE PATHS TO SUPPORTING COMMUNITY

ALUMNI PROVIDE OUTSTANDING SERVICE TO CHILDREN AND YOUTH IN ATLANTIC CANADA

By Rachel Cooper ('89)

The Acadia experience is life-changing. Whether in the classroom, as part of the Acadia community, or in the diverse volunteering opportunities provided to students here, many alumni say that their time at Acadia influenced their chosen path to include service to their community.

For the three alumni profiled here, that path has led them to high-level positions in non-profit organizations that work to change lives for the better among children and youth across Atlantic Canada. Their stories, and their work, are inspiring.
